

Eirini Nikolaou graduated as a musicologist from the Department of Music Studies (National and Kapodistrian University of Athens). She received the Msc degree and Phd degree from the Department of Philosophy-Pedagogy-Psychology of Ioannina University (Greece). Furthermore, she has a Diploma as a Piano soloist and Composer, where she took the first and second award as well. From 2002, she is a Senior Teaching Fellow in Department of Primary Education in Ioannina University, teaching Music Education and conducting the Choir of the Department. Her research interests are focused on Music Education, on Ancient Greek music, ICT in music learning and composition. She is the author (Grigoris Editions: 2021) of one book in Greek, in the field of music education.